Challenges: During this quarter, our organization experienced a change in leadership and volunteers. During an annual board meeting on March 30, several new chairpersons were voted into positions of responsibility and from April 1 to June 30 effort has been directed into preparing and training new chairpersons and volunteers for the duties required of them in the office. June has also brought challenges of unavailable volunteers due to vacations and children home during the summer.

Comments: Through these changes and limited summer walk-in hours the organization continues to see and serve a significant number of clients.
